

Don't Just Manage Your Data. Use It.

Chances are, you spend more time managing your data than you'd like. More time entering it than you'd like. Sometimes even re-entering it in multiple places. A lot of the data is in your current system. But there's that other system you still use for that one thing. That paper form everyone still fills out. Those spreadsheets you still use to log some data that just can't be tracked in your current system. It takes too long to find the relevant data when you need it. It shouldn't be this hard.

It's All There. In One System -- One Place.

You collect a lot of information. Zuercher Records consolidates and automates your records processing, organizing everything from case reports to parking tickets to digital evidence in a way that makes sense to your agency. Everything is linked and searchable.

Every time you create a record anywhere within your Zuercher software system, that information feeds into the master name, address, and vehicle file. The system is designed to eliminate duplicate entry and give you the full picture. See warrants. Alerts. History. Every record or incident associated with that name, address or vehicle. Right on your screen when you need it.

Streamline Your Process.

Don't waste your time typing everything in again and again. Critical information from your call for service is pre-populated into your case report or form. Don't waste time calling dispatch to confirm details as you write your report. The system tracks the information you need: call type, complainant, and unit response times. The data is right there alongside your case form for reference as you write it up.

Anything you need to track can be attached straight to your case reports: narratives, citations, property and evidence records, scanned files, photos, or links to videos. Attach agency specific forms, such as Miranda rights, search warrants or use of force documents. Or link a record to other records. The connections are made for you.

No more waiting to get back to the office to finish writing your report. Zuercher Mobile Records lets you file reports on the move and access data immediately with a system you already know. Check a warrant. View a suspect's full history. It's all just a click away. Even in your patrol car.

Workflow: Do It Your Way.

Set up your Zuercher Records to align with the process for case review and approval that your agency already uses. Choose what types of case reports you need and set a unique workflow and permissions as to who can access each type: patrol, investigations, juvenile, narcotics, and more. Designate intelligence data with tight controls on who may see or use records.

Supervisors can approve or kick back cases. Monitor a list of cases on your individualized Zuercher Dashboard to see what needs to be filed, fixed or reviewed. Simplify things further by setting automatic notifications. Alert records staff that a report is complete. Send e-mail or text alerts to senior staff about high profile incidents. You know what's going on. You know when to take action.

More Than Just Case Reports.

Track everything from warrants to pawned property in the same fully integrated system. If your reporting party has a protection order or there's an outstanding warrant at an address, you see an alert.

Create custom reports using any of your Zuercher Records data. Analyze officer caseload. Generate a list of accidents at a key intersection. Post a list of active warrants. The data's there. You decide how to use it.
