

Situational Awareness. Right Now.

It's hard to know what you need to keep safe on the streets. When you knock on the door, you wish you had the backstory. History and reports about what's going on at your location. Access to officers for backup. You need situational awareness to avoid unnecessary conflicts.

Right at your Fingertips.

NEARme provides you location-based information critical to your safety and the safety of those around you. It uses your laptop GPS or AVL signal to display an officer-centered interactive map. See timely incident activity, persons-of-interest, arrests and field interviews right where you are.

Get current maps to help make information-based decisions. Review, trends, patterns, and behaviors to keep your people safe. Field officers can respond quickly to incidents. They're better prepared for what they may encounter.

Two-Way Communication.

Access your operational missions. Communicate from the field to command staff using the missions dialogue box. Get BOLOs and photos at the click of a button.

Track Where It Happens.

NEARme's location-based services allow your officers to focus their time on operational missions. Command staff can track the status of the missions. See how long officers have spent within a mission.

Summarize It, Organize It.

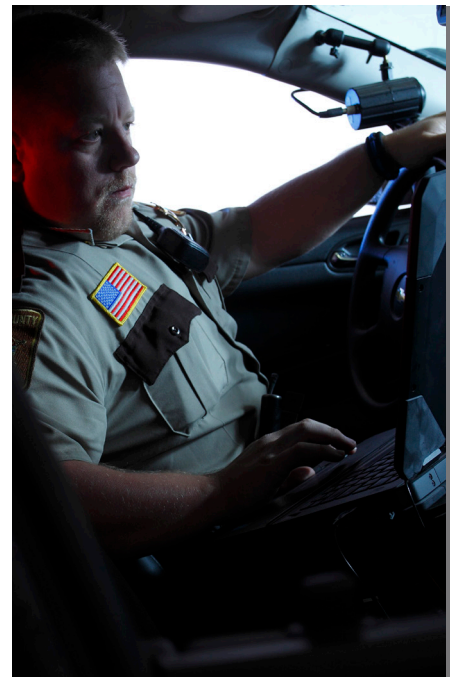

Combine information: burglaries, larcenies, related field interviews and persons-of-interest into themes. Provide field officers a timely summary of pertinent and critical information.

Esri Integration.

NEARme is built on the Esri environment. The standard in many local government agencies.
